About the Portio Research Worldwide Directory of Mobile Network Operators 2006.

This directory is an essential reference tool for any company that sells any product or service to mobile network operators (MNOs), or indeed to anyone who needs to quickly and easily identify and contact MNOs around the world. The Portio Research Worldwide Directory of Mobile Network Operators 2006 lists 740 mobile networks in total, including 114 3G networks.

The directory lists mobile networks in the following regions:

- Africa: 140 operators listed
- Asia Pacific: 172 operations listed
- Eastern Europe: 83 operators
- Western Europe: 131 networks covered
- Latin America: 138 operations covered
- Middle East: 46 operators listed
- North America: 30 networks listed

Total: 740 networks covered, 114 3G networks listed.

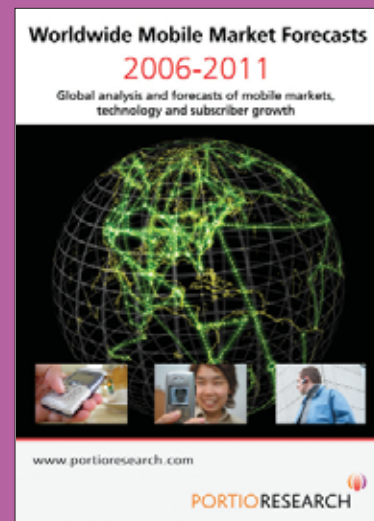

The directory offers contact information for each network operator, including:

- Network operator name
- Network brand name
- Network technology (includes GSM, CDMA, TDMA, W-CDMA, CDMA2000 1xEV-DO, EDGE and others)
- Network launch or start date
- Territory covered/service area
- Address
- Phone number
- Fax number
- Web address
- Email address

Where possible, we have also included country penetration level, operator market share and up-to-date subscriber data, which is available for the majority of all entries, mostly in Europe, North America and AsPac. As with any directory product, in some cases not all the data is available, but the great majority of entries contain information in all categories, and this directory offers an extremely useful reference tool for sales and marketing teams working across the globe. Each regional section is also complete with an introduction, including our regional subscriber forecasts 2005-2011 and some background notes on each regional market.

Order your copy of this essential reference tool now – available as a 223 page PDF document, this directory is packed with contact information to help you identify and target mobile operators around the world.
